Passenger Equipment
Big Sandy.

Has Ordered Best Non-Vestibule Coaches Installed on This Line.

We have a place of most welcome news for the thousands of persons who travel on the Big Sandy train.

An order has been issued assigning to this division the best non-vestibule equipment owned by the company. These coaches are of the vestibule type and are entirely satisfactory for service.

We are just in receipt of the following letter from an official, which is the first announcement that has been made of the welcome order:

Richmond, Va., Aug. 8, 1911.

My dear Mr. Conley:
Referring to the article in your paper of July 21st, headed "WILL NOT," in which you speak of the passenger coaches of the Big Sandy District being replaced with comfortable vestibule coaches and in which you ask why if these coaches can be spared to you a few days, what reason there is for not putting them on that division. I have taken the matter up with the General Manager, who has assigned the best non-vestibule passenger equipment that we have to the Big Sandy District. This is a better class of coaches than has been used on this line and is equal to the best used on branch lines. These coaches are, in every respect, as comfortable as the vestibule coaches.

No railroads use vestibule coaches on branch lines, because of the fact that local trains are run and the constant opening and shutting of the doors make them useless so far as any protection or benefit to the passenger is concerned. Even on a main line, where we are running local schedules, we use, whenever possible, non-vestibule cars.

If there is anything that I can do for you at any time in this connection and you will take up the matter with me direct, I will be sure you of my attention and desire to do everything I can aiding you and your paper, and this desire is also shared by President Stevens and the officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio.

Mrs. Zara Johnson is quite sick, and her son J. R. and grandson, Vinson, are here from Richmond to see her.

JUDGE HANNAH BETTER.

Report That Judge Benton Will Pre-side Here.

It is very gratifying to the many friends of Judge J. B. Hannah to learn that there is a decided change for the better in his condition. The doctor has left him and nothing remains as an element of danger and weakness. His mother has come to her home, and this is strong evidence of his satisfactory condition.

Of course Judge Hannah will not be able to sit on the bench of the Law-Circuit Court beginning August 15th. The law makes it the duty of the court to organize a new court which is an engaged duty of the court to provide when the court is organized.

Change in Lock Forces.

By an order which became effective August 5th quite a change has been made in the forces at the lock in this section. Chas. Rice is made lockmaster at Chapman, with William Childers 1st lockman. J. Mat. Rowe goes to Saltwater as lockmaster, with Frank Childers 1st lockman. Zeb. Hoston succeeds Charley Rice at the Louisa lock, and Robt. Rowe succeeds J. Mat. Rowe as 1st lockman at this point.

All these positions are quite desirable, the work not being a drudgery and the pay sure. In addition to the salary each man is furnished free a very comfortable residence.

A Peculiar Drowning.

On last Friday afternoon John Taylor, of near Putters station, four miles north of this place was drowned under very peculiar circumstances. He was in a skiff, fishing in the river not far from his home, when he had an epileptic fit and his head, hands and shoulders fell across the side of the boat into the river, and before help could reach him he was drowned. The unfortunate man left a widow and four children. A burial outfit was furnished by the county.

DR. H. C. OSBORN.

Lawrence County Young Man Makes Envious Record.

From hospital interne to a place in the United States Army Medical Corps with the rank of First Lieutenant is the sudden rise of Dr. Henry C. Osborn, stationed at the Louisville City Hospital for the past year, following his graduation from the medical department of the University of Louisville with high honors. To win this honor Dr. Osborn stood the difficult examination required of applicants and in which statistics show only one in every hundred is successful. Indeed, Dr. Osborn had his misgiving when he underwent the severe test and surprised even himself when he emerged with the much-sought prize.

Dr. Osborn is twenty-eight years of age and a native of Blaine, Lawrence county, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. James L. Osborn, who still reside there. He attended school in Lawrence county, and, after graduating from Berea College, came to Louisville five years ago. He entered the medical department of the University of Louisville and graduated in 1910, winning first honors in a class of 202. As the reward for his class standing he was appointed interne at the Louisville City Hospital, and will complete his years service on September 1. Army regulations require a year's hospital service before admission to the Medical Corps.

He took the examination, which required six days, before an army board at Fort Harrison, near Indianapolis, Ind., the week of July 10. He was notified, under date of July 27, by the Surgeon General of the United States Army of his good fortune in passing the examination and that his name would be submitted to the Adjutant General of the army for a commission in the Medical Reserve Corps. Dr. Osborn will report at Washington City on October 2 for one year's instruction in the army medical school, after which he will be given a permanent commission in the army, starting with the rank of First Lieutenant, which rank and the pay attached he will begin to enjoy as soon as his commission reaches him in a few days.

Dr. Osborn, who is of a modest and retiring disposition, is being congratulated on all sides on his good fortune. He is very popular at the City Hospital, and will leave that institution with the best wishes of all his associates.—Louisville Times, Aug. 3.

The News takes much pleasure in reproducing the above which is another Big Sandy boy who has made a name for himself.

The article tells his own story of reward which surely follows good conduct, industry, sobriety and diligent application to work or study. "Little Chik" set his mark high, and he has gained an enviable, honorable position. As a commissioned officer in the Medical Corps of the United States Army it is possible for him to become the Surgeon General of the Army, and if we judge the future by the past he is just the lad to some day wear the insignia of that high position. Dr. Osborn's place is practically for life. He will next become a captain, then successively a major, lieutenant colonel, colonel, brigadier general and major general. At the age of 61 he is retired on three-fourths the full pay of the rank he had attained at the time of retirement. This pay continues until his death. Dr. Osborn has won his honors by his own pluck and ability. Favoritism and political "pull" go for nothing in a matter of this sort, and the field is open to all.

Blaine and vicinity is a hotbed, so to speak, for doctors. Since the Civil War half a hundred or more young men living within a radius of ten miles of the town of Blaine have graduated in medicine, and half of them belonged to the school district just above the Blaine district.

Noah Kelly Paroled.

Frankfort, Ky., August 2.—The Prison Commission today granted a parole to Noah Kelly, sent up from Lawrence County to serve a twenty-one-year sentence for manslaughter. Kelly was only 17 years of age when he was sent to the penitentiary and has served seven years, during which time he has been a model prisoner.

The crime for which Kelly was convicted was the deliberate killing of his cousin, a lad named Hicks. They had quarreled over some trivial matter at Kelly's home and Hicks had mounted his horse and was riding away. When he had gone at least 200 yards Kelly took deliberate aim and shot him, the ball entering his back and passing out through his breast.

Married at the Savoy.

Miss Alta Rice, of Paintsville, and Mr. Jake Milam, of this county, were married in the parlor of the hotel Savoy last Friday, by the Rev. Dr. Hanford. They will reside in Van Lear.

CHEAPER GAS.

Contract On Record Entitles Louisa to Reduction.

As stated recently the United Fuel Gas Company has announced a reduction in the price of gas in Huntington to 20 cents per thousand feet. Not only has it been announced, but for the benefit of any who may doubt the correctness of the report we will state that contracts have already been signed by a large number of Huntington citizens to take gas at this rate for five years.

Referring again to the contract made by the company to furnish gas to Louisa as low as other cities or towns we call the attention of officials to the records in the county court clerk's office. This agreement will be found in right of way contract made by Mr. Alexander Lackey. It states as a consideration that the citizens of Louisa and all public buildings therein shall be furnished with gas at as low a rate as any cities along the Ohio river.

We remember hearing Mr. Lackey speak of the matter with a great deal of satisfaction soon after the contract was executed. He felt that it probably would be worth much to the people of Louisa, and the correctness of his foresight seems now to be fully verified. The proposition should be laid before the officials of the gas company at once.

Any teacher who failed to secure a copy of the Grade Course of Study at the Institute, may have same by calling at my office.

SHOT FROM COVER.

Frank Burton, of This County, The Victim.

Cowardly Attempt Made on the Life of a Timber Man in West Virginia.

Frank Burton a prominent timber man of Lattin on the Gayan Valley 30 miles from Huntington was shot from ambush about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening as he was walking along the country road about two miles outside of Lattin and probably fatally wounded. Burton stated that he saw the man who shot him but did not know who he was. A message received by Mr. Holbrook, of the Huntington Produce and Food Company, a relative of Burton was told of the affair and he at once made arrangements with Chief Davis and John Baker to take the bloodhounds to the scene of the tragedy and make an effort to run down the would-be murderer. Baker with the dogs, and accompanied by Holbrook, left on a freight train shortly after last midnight for the scene of the shooting.—Huntington Herald-Dispatch.

Frank Burton is a native of this county and had lived in Fallsburg. He is a brother-in-law, of Mr. Jay O'Daniel, of this place, having married his sister. Upon hearing the news of the wounding of Mr. Burton Mr. O'Daniel communicated with the sheriff of the county where the attempted murder had occurred and learned of his brother-in-law's condition. Thursday morning he learned that he had been taken to a Huntington hospital and was doing as well as could be expected. Twenty-one shots had been extracted from his body and he will possibly recover. The man suspected of doing the shooting has not yet been captured.

Mr. O'Daniel went to Huntington Thursday to see his brother-in-law.

LATER:—Golden Hager has been arrested for the crime and his bond fixed at $2000. There was an old grudge between the men. Burton will recover unless blood poison should set in.

PER CAPITA $4.61.

Lawrence County Teachers Get More Than First Reported.

The per capita tax for every county in the State except Pike, Taylor and Woodford has been reported to the Department of Education. The amount this county will receive is $4.61 cents for each pupil child in the county. Only two counties get more, Livingston $4.62 and Bullitt $4.63. The lowest per capita is that of Robertson, $4.22. The other counties in this section Elliott gets $4.41, Johnson $4.43, Carter and Ford $4.45, Boyd $4.47, Martin $4.51, Letcher $4.53, Morgan $4.59 and Knott $4.60.

These differences are caused by the difference in the amount of dog tax paid into the State treasury. When a sheriff is prompt in the collection of this tax the school fund is the gainer. The amount per capita for this county shows that Sheriff Carter has been busy in enforcing the collection of the tax on dogs, and the News will say right here that he is an all around efficient officer. This short article also affords much food for those who are opposed to the present dog law.

THE BAKERY SOLD.

Clyde Hamilton has sold the Louisa Bakery to a Mr. Pfening, of Williams, W. Va., who at once moved the bakery and went on with the business. The bakery has been sold for some time and the future of the bakery is a matter of some interest.

She Was Four Years Old.

On last Friday afternoon some two score or more of the future beaux and belles of the country honored Miss Katharine Carey with their presence (spell it both ways) the occasion being the fourth anniversary of her birth. It was an ideal party, the weather, the decorations, the favors, the delicious refreshments, the happy crowd and the equally happy little hostess. Nothing had been spared to make the event pleasing to the child and her friends, and the result was surely successful. "Oh, we just had the nicest time that ever was!" This was the unanimous verdict of a jury competent to try such a case. And the crowd was too full to say much more. The tokens of remembrance received by Miss Katharine were many, some elegant, all appreciated.

Overland From Huntington.

Rolla Moorman and Max Wilcox, two young men of Huntington, are visiting relatives in this vicinity. They walked the entire distance from their home to Louisa, being desirous of seeing the country. Three days were consumed in making the trip. The boys are grandsons of John D. Wellman, for many years a resident of this city.

A NEW STEAMBOAT.

The Edna Riley Being Built for Louisa-Richardson Trade.

Tom Vaughan and Mr. Robert Riley, both of this city, have begun the building of a freight and passenger steamboat to run between Richardson and Louisa. The boat will leave Richardson every morning and Louisa every evening. It will be a double-decker with cabin and fore-cabin. It will be 65 feet long and 15 feet wide, with a stern wheel and square bow. It will have two engines, and a sprocket chain will convey power to the wheel. Capt. Vaughan hopes to make the new boat's draft—maybe it's draft!—not more than a foot, possibly not more than ten inches. The builders hope to have the new craft in commission before winter. Capt. Vaughan is a veteran steamboat man and knows all about boats from stem to stern and from the keel to the top of the stacks.

The owners of the new boat feel sure that there will be enough trade between Louisa and Richardson to justify running a boat between the two towns. Between the two points there are about twenty-five stores, and of this number not one-fifth are on the railroad. A boat would get the freighting for the stores not near the road. It would not take a good comfortable boat very long to get the passenger trade also. Buyers who could get aboard at any point along the river would soon get the habit, and Louisa merchants would be largely the gainers. The mills are now getting out the timber for the new boat.

A Show With New Ideas.

All arrangements have been perfected by the advance publicity promoters of the Sun Brothers' World Progressive Shows to appear here for two complete performances on Friday, August 18, 1911. This the twentieth annual tour of this big aggregation touring this country.

It is one of the leading shows, it exhibits, animals and varied features are all of the best. The show is also one of the cleanest ever presented. No grafting games or immoral lures are ever tolerated about the establishment, and when the show appears here it will no doubt create more than a favorable impression.

The Sun Brothers' Show while strictly modern and classy in all departments and details as to acts and features, together with management and paraphernalia, presents the "big show" program in the good old way—one act—one circle at a time. This is being done this season, owing to a popular demand. People attending a tented show want to see something to be seen. The present variety of some of the

The spread of pellagra in mountain counties of Western Kentucky has become so alarming and deaths from the disease have become so numerous that a State-wide conference was held at Corbin Wednesday to consider it. It has appeared in both the South and West and most of the patients who are afflicted with it are from the eastern part of the State. They have been many deaths. Really very little is known of the disease. Doctors, as usual, disagree concerning it. It is generally conceded, however, that it is contagious and that it is caused by eating corn one or more of its forms, corn bread for instance, made from corn which in some way had become diseased. The death rate among the afflicted is large.

A LETTER FROM MANILA, P. I.

On account of numerous first-class passengers, state rooms could not be furnished to some of the officers, they were sent to the women's quarters. Each state room has two tiers, one above the other and a settee. Ample room for two, although three persons are sometimes forced into them. The soldiers have their quarters on two tiers below the mess deck. Three tiers of canvas bunks are all that is necessary. The lights are turned out at 9 p. m. and as the soldier prepares to lay down, an uncomfortable feeling of suffocation attacks him. First he imagines that the weather is warm then he realizes that the word "tropical" is inadequate to express his sentiments, and finally as the perspiration pours through the skin, he is convinced that the engineers of the ship have made a mistake and moved the furnace under his individual bunk for some devilish purpose. In a word, where so many men are sleeping together, the atmosphere is warm and not alone warm but infernally hot. Many men sleep on the upper deck, but are aroused at 4 a. m. by the deck hands who wash down the ship. During the night the guards walk their post; a few men are at the troughs washing their clothes in salt water, which water by the way leave the clothes when washed dirtier than before the attempt was made; the bakers are busy at the ovens fixing bread, cakes and pie for the morrow and the men are reading books, while in the cooks' galley, the kitchen police are busily engaged peeling "spuds," potatoes. As the ship is speeding, along with its human freight, very few give thought to the captain who is responsible for the lives of those on board; to the engineers to the firemen and the coal passers. The first rays of the morning sun dawn on the horizon, reveille is sounded and the sleeping soldiers come to life. Towels and salt water soap are seized and headway is made for the lavatories. Have you ever used salt water soap? If so, then you know the difficulties one experiences in keeping clean. A few applications of the soap produces a gummy lather having a scent of coconut oil and no amount of rubbing can effect the cleansing. Therefore adage of "cleanliness being next to godliness" can only be illustrated in the abstract. After washing, mess call is sounded. A few minutes later the men undergo physical exercises.

Sick call is sounded at 7 a. m. There are four contract surgeons on the ship. Each man who desires medical attendance has his name put on the company sick book, and is examined by the doctor. Should the soldier be seriously sick he is put into a well equipped hospital; those having slight indispositions receive medicine suited to the case. Guard mount next takes place after which preparation for the daily inspection is made. The special fatigue gangs equipped with implements, not of war, consisting of brooms and shovels attack the decks. As the chief engineers are dirt, rubbish, cigar stubs and paper, waste is expressed why they cry, "You can't stand here, men, you've got to move," is heard. It seems that the warriors are so intent on their duties that they fail to see men occupied in various amusements. No objection in the path seems to trouble the sweepers; onward they go in battle array, completing their task, as only true soldiers know. Three times each day all the decks are cleaned, which, however, is insufficient. The upper deck is washed down at night.

Dinner call is sounded a slight variation from the last meal is observed. The afternoon is spent in card playing generally for "jaw-bone" that is, to be paid on pay day and the monetary of the trip already in evidence. Arrived at Honolulu on October 13th, 1907, and the town was inspected. The most interesting part of the town was visited, such as the aquarium where wonderful fish can be seen, to the prison, the coconut groves, the pineapple warehouses, the Chinese district, the Japanese part of the town. Of course very interesting sights were seen, but these were over balanced by having to pay ten cents gold for a glass of beer. Two days were enough and many of the men were glad to leave, although Honolulu has been enthusiastically described on account of its climate and wonderful sunset.

On the 29th of Oct., Midway Island was seen. The islands contain but 133 square miles of land, have a population of 1,000 people. Forty miles also is the distance from the 11th of the 19th century.

Our next stop of interest was Guam. This island was a prison island during the Philippines insurrection, where all prominent officers fighting against the American flag, were sent. 140 marines are stationed there and they express little liking for the place. The chief food, as they say, is canned goods, and they welcome the transports, for it gives them food which they like. One week more of the voyage and our destination arrived at Manila.

Manila's buildings could be seen from a distance and to the boat slowly crept to the dock, we could see that many friends were at hand to welcome us. At two o'clock a. m. Nov. 3rd, 1907, the good old transport which carried us safely across the waters dropped anchor, and we had at last reached our journey's end.

her husband, the latest interest the marines showed by asking after the news from the "States," the dreary aspects of the place made many hesitate to go off. Especially the soldier showed a lack of appreciation, because nearly all refused to get into small boat "cat," and take them to the shore. It was learned that the victrolas were changed, but the nearest line of communication was nearly miles.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.

Died, Aug. 2, 1911, at 1 p. m. Mr. James Poe at the age of 65 years, 6 months and 7 days after an illness of about four months.

Although he had been in poor health for sometime his death was practically unexpected. He had seemingly been on the mend for some few days and it was hoped that he would recover until about twelve hours before his death he became unconscious and lay in a stupor until a few minutes before his death when he regained consciousness and though he was unable to speak he seemed to know those who were at his bedside and made several efforts to speak to them, but it was in vain. He could not speak.

Uncle Jim, as he was called, had lived a true Christian life for the last forty years and rejoiced in the faith of a living God until the last. The Bible had always been his guide, his refuge in times of trouble and sorrow and his comfort in his last days. About the last words he ever spoke he says to his wife, "Don't you see that pretty railing?" Then he spoke a few words about his being so beautiful and said no more. By the death of this venerable old soldier the community has lost a good and useful citizen, the bereaved widow mourns the loss of a good and devoted husband, the children a kind and loving father.

When Mr. Poe was quite young he married Miss Nancy Wellman. To this union were born six children, five of whom survive him: John Poe Mrs. Lish Griffith, Webster Poe and Mrs. J. O. Miller, all of this county and Mrs. John Shoemaker, whose home is in Bixby, Ohio. For his second wife he married Mrs. Nancy Perry Fanna. To this union were born three children, two of them have preceded him to the Glory Land, and one of them a boy is still living. For his third wife he married Miss Ellen Bradley about three years ago. She remains his widow. Only two of the children were close enough to be summoned to their father's bedside at the time of his death. They were Webster and Jessie. One of his grandchildren, Miss Nora Griffith of Cherokee, was present. His remains were laid to rest in the family graveyard at the Thompson Berry place. After the funeral services had been held in the Spring Dale church house conducted by Rev. Kase and John T. Moore.

We would say to the sorrowing widow, children and friends, weep not as those who have no hope, but follow the goodly example Uncle Jim has set before you, and you can meet father and husband where death can never enter. You can not call your loved one back, but you can meet him in that home that God has prepared for his children. "To that are faithful over a few things I will make you ruler over many things." M. E. Accused of Stealing.

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Mo., lately accused Beckley's Arnold Shave of stealing—the thing from him or so—the pain from some of all kinds—the distress from both or piling. "It robs, every corner, trade on, and injures the life of the town," he says. "I am a steady worker and don't steal."

THE TRUSTEE.

Tried in Louisa, It Has Stood the Test.

The hardest test is the test of time, and Don's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Louisa. Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

Mrs. Sarah Pigg, Main St., Louisa, Ky., says: "I suffered from many distressing symptoms of kidney trouble. My back was the weakest spot and the dull, heavy pains through my loins were almost unbearable. I was weak, tired and devoid of ambition and often was annoyed by headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney secretions also bothered me and I felt like giving up. Don's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and I began their use. Before long the passages of the kidney secretions were regulated and the other symptoms of my trouble disappeared." (Statement given June 2, 1908.)

No Trouble Since.

On June 22, 1909, Mrs. Pigg added to the above: "During the past year and half, I have not had the least return attack of this complaint."

The postmaster at Carlisle has resigned to become one of former Congressman Beckett's aides-de-camp.

If Louisville wants State Conventions held there it should protect such gatherings from the disturbances inflicted by hoodlums that always pack the convention halls.

Mr. E. C. O'Rear, Republican for Governor, opened his campaign at Elizabethtown Saturday made the sensational statement 70,000 Kentuckians regularly their vote.

A Democrat thinks the election of the good Republican in November, will be a fact that there was too much on the inside and Democrats on the outside.

Watterson declared in his words to the State convention that he would follow the State matter where he goes, saying that he would support the State regardless of difference of opinion as to the platform.

Beckham and Wilber Haggen of the State Convention for temperance legislation have always stood as kept out of the Governor by the unjustified action of a organization which was the victim of deeds usually by one or two of guided friends.

Barth Walker, a negro, who was shot with shooting and killed, a special policeman, was Saturday night, was dragged from a cot in a hospital at Louisville, Pa., by a mob of men last night and burned to death.

Notice that this murder of a negro was done north of Dixon's Moo.

Some government job may be assigned with impunity to help some other republican over the head of a quite a different Appellate bench in a Governorship recall to the Court of Appeals, Judge O'Connell on to his good job.

During his absence from his residence in Dakota and the night, Judge is a wise man, looking, intelligent, and a pleasure in receiving.

SEPT. JAY O'DANIEL.

County Superintendent of Schools Jay O'Daniel has demonstrated very conclusively that when he was chosen by the people of this county to be their superintendent of public schools they made no mistake. He has done a most excellent work for the education of the children of Lawrence county, particularly for the children Governor Goebel called "the great common people." Mr. O'Daniel brought to his responsible position a wide experience as an observant teacher. He had taught many years in the public schools, knew their deficiencies and their needs, and to cure the evils and supply their needs he has labored incessantly and successfully. In the administration of his office he has shown a high degree of executive ability, managing its affairs with a tact and judgment which have enabled him to bring schools of the county to a degree of excellence, such as they have rarely enjoyed before.

Superintendent O'Daniel is essentially a school man. This is the business of his life, and to perfect this business as far as possible he spares neither time nor expense visiting institutes, associations, conventions and all sorts of educational meetings. Here he learns all that is new and useful in his profession, and the schools under his supervision, the teacher and the pupils, get the benefit of the knowledge thus acquired. These few lines prove the truth of what we said: the people made no mistake when they made him Superintendent of Schools.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Each recurring year since the first farmers' institute was held in Lawrence county the News has called attention to the date and place, giving as much publicity as possible to the coming. Each successive year it has recorded the repeated story of slim attendance and summer interest in the meeting. The time for another institute is near at hand. Next Friday and Saturday are the days for the meeting. Shall the News have to record the story of the almost or total failure of our farmers to give the proper attention to a matter which is of vital importance to them? Somehow we believe not. Somehow we believe that those who are getting their living by tilling Mother Earth in this section are going to come to town next week and discuss and hear discussed subjects in which they should have a lively interest. Come on time and we men, and come out strong and take part in the institute. Take a two days rest from your labors—you have won it—and enjoy the plain practical talks and lessons which will be the leading features of the institute.

Institute will also be held at the following times and places: Tues. Aug. 22-23; Paintsville, Aug. 23-24; Saltersville, Aug. 24-25; West Liberty, Sept. 1-2; Pikeville, Aug. 15-17; Prestonsburg, Aug. 22-23; and Hindman, Aug. 25-26.

BISHOP FITZGERALD DEAD.

The Rt. Rev. Oscar Pean Fitzgerald, a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, died Saturday at Mount Eagle, Tenn., aged 52 years. In the early seventies he was State Superintendent of Public Instruction in California and later editor of the Pacific Methodist and Christian Spectator. He was born in North Carolina. He is survived by a widow and four children.

To those acquainted with the aged minister, no man was ever elevated to episcopacy by any church who more truly reflected the spirit of the Master. From his heart the milk of human kindness flowed in rare abundance, pure and entirely unadorned. His love for mankind was unbounded and knew no denominational limitations. This was his characteristic and through the length and breadth of his acquaintance the kindest sorrow prevails as a result of his death. A number of years ago he had to desert from his active work as a prelate of the church, but he never lost his interest in affairs, or in his fellow-men.

He presided over the Southern Methodist Conference held here fifteen or sixteen years ago.

TEACHERS.

Our teachers have made a specialty of all the branches and hold diplomas in all the subjects they teach. They have practiced both bookkeeping and shorthand for many years. These reasons our pupils get a commercial training which many will buy. We find positions for our pupils when they are sought any time, but NOW is the BEST time. Tuition Monthly, $1.00. Evening Sessions, Individual and Class Instruction. Business Correspondence, Penmanship, and Commercial Writing by Mail. Send for Catalogue.
